

Instructor, Doug White

Doug White has worked in the technology industry since the late 70's and has been involved in virtually every aspect of computing including as a programmer, networking administrator, security analyst, auditor, and other roles as a consultant on a wide variety of hardware platforms. Doug White holds a PhD from the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville in Computer Information Systems and Quantitative Analysis.

Doug White has worked for the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, Oak Ridge National Laboratories (Department of Energy, Department of Defense, and Martin Marietta Energy Systems), Southern Union Company, and others in a variety of roles as either a consultant or full time employee. Currently, Dr. White manages White Hat Research (www.whitehatresearch.com) in New York, Secure Technology, LLC. In Rhode Island, and works for Roger Williams University teaching Forensics to both undergraduate and graduate students in the CIS and Criminal Justice programs.

Dr. White has held the CCE since 2003 and has worked doing analysis of systems for corporate clients since the late 1980's. Dr. White also holds the CISSP certification.

Doug White has taught or worked with, C, C++, C#, Java, PHP, FORTRAN II – 77, COBOL, Visual Basic, Algol, Watbol, LISP, Prologue, SIMAN IV and Arena, and RPG III. Dr. White acts as an auditor on systems from PC based servers to MVS mainframe systems as well as Cisco, Mandriva Firewalls, and a variety of other platforms. Dr. White also teaches security techniques, penetration testing, and other security coursework for various companies.